POKER RUN AND MYSTERY LUNCH SUNDAY, APRIL 22, 2018

In years past this has always been a popular event. "Poker Players" attending this year's event were not disappointed. The weather was perfect for cruising to the mystery lunch location.

As we drove along the Santa Monica Mountains, we enjoyed the bucolic scenery leading us into Hidden Valley, which is horse ranch country. Known celebrities currently residing on their ranches are Tom Sellick, Jamie Foxx and David Murdock of Dole Foods.

Continuing on, we entered Sherwood Forest home of Robin Hood and his merry men. This name was based on a 1922 movie "The Adventures of Robin Hood" The first Robin Hood was portrayed by Douglas Fairbanks and in a 1938 sequel Errol Flynn was Robin Hood. Because of this movie the townspeople named their city Lake Sherwood.

In Westlake we stopped at the Westlake Yacht Club on Westlake Lake. The lake is manmade and is private.

Although the lake is private the Westlake Yacht Club is a separate non-profit entity sponsoring regattas, inviting other yacht clubs to sail on the lake. They also conduct community boat parades and offer sailing lessons.

Boccaddjo's and The Landing are a couple of the restaurants on the lake offering patio seating and terrific views.

The second half of the drive took us out Agoura Road to Las Virgenes Road and then onto Mulholland Hwy to Malibu State Park to arrive at Cornell Winery located on a historic

The town gets its name from Ezra Cornell (founder of Cornell University) who in the early 1900's responded to a wire requesting help to develop a one-room school house for the local families. With gratitude, they named their town Cornell.

Cornell has a lot of movie history. A restaurant The Old Place opened by Tom Runyon in the early 1970's became a clubhouse where Steve McQueen, Ali McGraw, and other stars from the era would hangout.

Across the street is the Peter Strauss Ranch where there are concerts during the summer and hiking and picnicking year-round.

A very special "Thanks" to Tamara Samaha for all her help To all the members who attended – Thank You. You made this event a memorable experience!
